Research Videos

Our next research video will feature Dr. Raheem Paxton, and his grant funded by National Cancer Institute featuring the outcomes of African American breast cancer survivors. Currently, Dr. Erin Carlson's video featuring the latent tuberculosis program is playing on the 6th and 7th floor television monitors. All videos are being posted on the SPH website for easy viewing by the students, community, and potential funders.

FAQ posted by the Grant Training Center

If I find a donor that looks good, should I call first or just start writing the proposal?

While it is a good idea to meet with the donor, you should do your homework before you call. Begin with reading the Request for Proposals (RFP) for answers on eligibility, deadlines, objectives of the project, and instructions. If you are writing to a foundation, most of the information you will need will be on their home page. Check out the tax returns of the foundation, and research the makeup of the leadership. After completing these tasks, you can write your abstract or summary page and call the donor to discuss your idea.

Help Office of Research Services (ORS) stay informed

Keep the ORS in the loop about your projects! Our office can help with all aspects of submissions. We can even help you collaborate with others and find out if anyone else is responding to a particular funding announcement. If you are working on an idea or are planning to submit a proposal, please contact us as soon as possible. Email ORS@unthsc.edu
